VISUAL GUIDE TO THE GEORGIA MILITARY AWARDS PROGRAM

FOR MANUFACTURE AND WEAR

SUMMARY of CHANGE

This new pamphlet, dated 5 Jan 2022–

- o Supersedes Georgia National Guard Regulation 672-1-1 and combines elements of Georgia State Defense Force Regulation 672-1 into a single Georgia Department of Defense pamphlet, changes the number and title, and moves the proponent to the J1.
- o Illustrates and describes for manufacture three new medals, five new ribbons, and six new certificates.
- o Adds images of all certificates that are issued with each decoration and service medal.

APPENDIX A Page 37 Additional Illustrations

APPENDIX B Page 39 Glossary of Awards and Heraldry

This pamphlet supersedes and combines Georgia National Guard and Georgia State Defense Force regulations into a single Georgia Department of Defense pamphlet. This visual guide is the companion to Georgia Department of Defense Regulation (GADODR) 600-1, dated 5 Jan 2022.

The proponent agency of this publication is the J1, Joint Force Headquarters – Georgia.

THOMAS M. CARDEN, JR.
Major General, GA NG
The Adjutant General

CHAPTER 1 – GENERAL

1-1. PURPOSE AND APPLICABILITY

- a. This pamphlet is a companion to the military awards program for the Georgia Department of Defense and outlines descriptions of the physical materials of the awards program.
- b. Per Georgia Code, Title 38, Military, Emergency Management, and Veterans Affairs, §§ 38-2-20 thru 38-2-23, the "organized militia," which constitutes the military division of the Georgia Department of Defense (GA DOD), includes the Georgia Army National Guard (GAARNG), the Georgia Air National Guard (GAANG), and the Georgia State Defense Force (GASDF).

1-2. KEY ABBREVIATIONS, TERMS, AND DEFINITIONS

- a. See Georgia Department of Defense Regulation (GADODR) 600-1 for definitions related to an awards program, including the terms "decoration," "medal," and "award."
- b. See appendix B of this pamphlet for terms specific to heraldry and manufacture.

1-3. NOTES ON MANUFACTURE.

- a. Medals. Except as noted, all medals are cast in bronze and are suspended from a moiré silk ribbon, 1 3/8 inches in length and 1 3/8 inches in width.
- b. Ribbons. Manufacturers will use the standard US military ribbon size, 3/8 inches in height and 1 3/8-inches in length. Ribbon bars will be identical in color to the suspension ribbon of the medals they represent, and of such construction that the ribbon may be detached and mounted on longer bars with other ribbons. Ribbons will not be permeated with unnatural preservatives, nor worn with protective coverings.
- c. Certificates.
 - (1) Will be printed on bond paper, of a vellum or similar natural (non-white) color.
 - (2) Will provide a place at the bottom for the signature of the approval authority. It will not contain a pre-printed signature block, except for the words "The Adjutant General" on those awards specifically approved by The Adjutant General.
 - (3) Will print illustrated seals and decorations in gold foil.

(4) Will print illustrated ribbons embossed, flying from the center, and terminating like that of a forked pennon.

d. Appurtenances.

(1) Boar's Head device. See appendix A.

(2) Oak Leaf Cluster. The standard US military device in the shape of a twig of four oak leaves with three acorns on the stem, which is bronze, silver, or gold in color, 5/16 inches in length. May be manufactured in horizontally aligned groups of 2, 3, or 4.

(3) Numerals. The standard US military device in the shape of Arabic numbers, which is bronze in color, 3/16 inches in height.

(4) "H" device. Like the standard US military device for other letters (such as the "V" device), which is bronze in color, 1/4 inch in height.

(5) Clasps. The standard US military device in the shape of a bar with loops ("knots"), which is bronze, silver, or gold in color, 1 3/8 inches in length.

(6) Service Stars. The standard US military device in the shape of a five-pointed star, which is bronze, silver, or gold in color, 3/16 inches in diameter.

CHAPTER 7 – UNIT DECORATIONS

GEORGIA DISTINGUISHED UNIT RIBBON

The ribbon is vertically half red, half white, in a frame gold in color with a wheat design. When worn, the red portion is on the wearer's right and the wheat is oriented in the direction in which wheat grows.

APPENDIX A – ADDITIONAL ILLUSTRATIONS

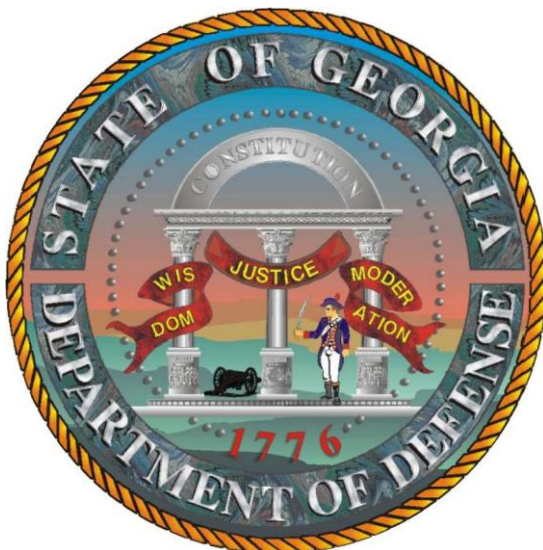

SEAL OF THE STATE OF GEORGIA

The seal of the state government, including its several departments.

SEAL OF THE GEORGIA DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE

The seal specific to the military division of the state government.

MILITARY CREST OF GEORGIA

This crest was approved by the Institute of Heraldry 20 March 1922. The red boar's head with green oak branch and yellow acorn is from the family crest of Sir James Oglethorpe, the founder of the colony of Georgia. The boar is the heraldic symbol of courage and ferocity in attack. A boar's head is also the classical symbol of hospitality. Note that the wreath is left empty of colors; each unit to which this crest is assigned will incorporate their unit colors into the wreath.

Heraldry description for manufacture: From a flat torse, the charge a boar's head erased close, Gules, facing dexter in trian aspect, and in the mouth an oak branch with six leaves, Vert, fructed Or.

BOAR'S HEAD DEVICE (APPURTENANCE)

Based on the military crest of Georgia, which is bronze or silver in color, 7/16 inches long and 1/4 inches high, on a wreath with alternating red and white colors to signify the English origins of the colony of Georgia. The boar's head faces the wearer's right, worn such that the wreath is parallel to the ground. It is fastened to both the service ribbon and the metal pendant by means of bronze staples incorporated as part of the appurtenance.

Silver device

APPENDIX B – GLOSSARY OF AWARDS AND HERALDRY

Definitions are based on A Glossary Of Terms Used In Heraldry, 1894, by James Parker; and on A Complete Guide To Heraldry, 1909, by Arthur Charles Fox-Davies.
Both works are in the public domain.

affront / affronté / affronty

Displayed facing directly at the observer.

annulet

A charge in the form of a small, circular ring.

Argent

Silver tincture.

Azure

Dark blue tincture.

charge

Centerpiece.

clechée

Branching straight out from the center and flaring out to three sharp or rounded points at the end, resembling the shape of a common French Medieval key handle.

close

A reference to something (such as an animal's head or claw) removed neatly and without any part of the neck or limb remaining attached to it.

couped

Having a straight edge, as if cut (off) cleanly with a sword.

dexter

Displayed facing to the right of the shield as worn; that is, to the observer's left.

embossed

Raised from the surface.

enamel

A paint that dries to a hard and glossy finish.

erased

A reference to something (such as an animal's head or claw) violently torn off and leaving a jagged edge (such as the boar's head).

excinded

Cut out or hollowed out.

forked

Split into two tapering points.

fructed

With fruit displayed, usually drawn out of proportion to its relative size. A branch, slip, bush, or tree is termed fructed when the fruit is shown (such as the acorn on the oak branch in the mouth of the boar's head).

Gules

Dark red tincture.

inlaid

An object ornamented by embedding a different material into it, flush with its surface.

Maltese cross

A quadrilateral symbol with extending arms of equal lengths that broaden from the center, terminating in sharp points and indented, resembling shallow "V" shapes.

moiré

A textile with a wavy and lustrous appearance, due to the weave and press effects upon the cloth.

obverse

Front side of an object, such as a medallion.

Or

Gold tincture.

passant

Displayed facing in full profile to the observer.

patonce / patoncé

Branching straight out from the center and terminating in a curved or rounded form with subdued and rounded flaring, extended unevenly, resembling a leaf shape.

pennon

A type of long banner without tapering.

Purple

reverse

Back side of an object, such as a medallion.

Sable

Black tincture.

Sanguine

Blood-red tincture.

stiacciato

In shallow relief.

Tenné

Orange-brown tincture.

tincture

The metals, colors, and furs used in heraldic arms.

torc

A circular ornament, such as for the nose or neck, which is open on one end.

torse

A slim, stylized wreath of interwoven, alternating colors, typically illustrated in three pairs for a total of six sections. The torse connects a crest to a helm.

trian aspect

Displayed at 3/4 profile to the observer. Gives the appearance of depth, with the head viewed at an angle somewhere between passant and affront.

Vert

Dark green tincture.
